Ontario Racing Commission

The Honourable William Wrye
Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations,
Parliament Buildings,
Queen's Park,
Toronto, Ontario

Dear Mr. Minister:

We are pleased to submit this thirty-eighth Annual Statistical Report of the Ontario Racing Commission, covering with the operations of the Commission during 1987.

We have had great success with a record betting handle of $973 million that brings us to the threshold of Ontario's first billion dollar betting year. Our statistics are impressive, both thoroughbred and standardbred.

But the true bottom line of Ontario racing is quality of life, jobs, new development, investment and opportunity for the agricultural side of the industry to flourish along with the entertainment side.

In the last two years, more than 4,000 new job opportunities have been created as racing continues to grow, to prosper and to expand into new markets. Typical is the launching of Hiawatha Horse Park in Sarnia, Ontario's first spanking new track in more than a decade.

Ontario, thanks to the dynamic partnership between government and industry, has become more than a leader in the continental racing industry. The rest of the industry looks here for inspiration, not merely in economic growth but in integrity and effective regulatory controls.

The dynamism of the Ontario industry is attributed to the extremely innovative Racetrack Assistance Program that has modernized and streamlined the patron side of racetracks.

The partnership is dramatic proof of what can be done. For this the 49,000 Ontarians who derive their livelihood from racing and horse breeding, thank you. They also pledge their talents, their experience and ability to making Ontario the leading racing jurisdiction in the world.

For 1988, the first billion dollar year is only the beginning.

Yours faithfully,

Frank Drea

Highlights of the Record Shattering 1987 Racing Season in Ontario

- Record wagering of $973,802,080 was 9.4 per cent higher than the record set in 1986. Standardbred betting continued to rise (up 6.84 per cent) and there was a dramatic increase in Thoroughbred betting (up 13.1 per cent).
- Ontario achieved 56.68 per cent of all Canada race betting.
- Standardbred betting of $560,118,892 catapulted Ontario's harness industry past New York State and into second place behind New Jersey.
- Ontario continued to lead the world in racing days, 1794. Quarter Horse racing expanded to 13 race dates.
- New streamlined Rules of Racing are now in effect for Thoroughbred and Standardbred racing. Both Rules Committees, made up of industry representatives, worked diligently for a year to produce North America's most modern standards.
- Race dates were approved in principal for a new racetrack to be built in Sarnia. The new racetrack will be known as Hiawatha Horse Park and brings to 20 the number of harness racing tracks in Ontario.
- $7.9 million was distributed through the Standardbred Racing and Breeding Incentive Program in Ontario Sires Stakes and Trillium Series races, and breeders awards. Ontario Sires Stakes star of the three-year-old colt pacers, Rare Review, was a stunning example this year, of the success of the Ontario-bred Standardbred, winning all of the Ontario Sires Stakes races he entered. N V Worthy is another example, winning the Canadian Trotting Classic over such world champion horses as Napoletano and Ditka Hanover.
- The Lampman Cup was established, in memory of the late James Lampman, of the Ontario Jockey Club whose lifetime was devoted to the growth and expansion of harness racing. This cup goes to the leading driver of the Ontario Sires Stakes program and was won in 1987 by Terry Kerr.
- Some $4.3 million was distributed in the Thoroughbred program including ten Ontario Sires Stakes races.
- Sales averages of Ontario-sired yearlings at the major sales increased dramatically. The average price of the top 50 Ontario-sired Standardbreds was up 32 per cent to a record high of $40,400 and the average price of the top 50 Ontario-sired Thoroughbred was up 15 per cent to $72,340.
- The Racetracks Assistance Program, implemented in 1986 with the Province investing $25 million on a matched funds basis, achieved outstanding success. The R.A.P. investment, to produce patron comforts and modernize customer facilities at tracks, has produced both attendance and betting increases.
- Ontario racing industry employment soared to 49,000, a 9 per cent gain in twenty-two months.

Meetings and Hearings

The seven-member Commission meets on a regular basis to establish policy, to deal with administrative matters and to act as a quasi-judicial tribunal.

Commission Meetings

The Commission held seventeen formal meetings during 1987 at which regular business was attended to.

Hearings

In addition to formal meetings, the Commission sat for 21 days at which 30 licensees appeared for hearings or appeals.

Thoroughbred

During 1987, thirteen licensees or applicants for licences appeared before the Commission for hearings relative to the Rules of Thoroughbred Racing.

Standardbred

Seventeen standardbred licensees appeared before the Commission for hearings or appeals pertaining to the Rules of Standardbred Racing.

General

On October 6, the Commission approved in principle race dates for a new racetrack in Sarnia which is located in southwestern Ontario. To be known as Hiawatha Horse Park, the racetrack will tentatively operate with a total of 45 race dates commencing July 1 and concluding at the end of September based on a three-day weekly schedule.

On December 8th and 9th, the Commission reviewed the 1988 Race Dates and Intertrack Wagering Date applications. Approval was granted for 1805 days of Thoroughbred, Standardbred and Quarter Horse racing as well as 266 days of intertrack wagering. This approval included 46 days at Sarnia conditional upon completion of the new racetrack and the expansion of Quarter Horse racing to 17 days at Picov Downs. Not included in this approval were race dates for Elmira and Kawartha Downs racetracks. Elmira's race date approval was held in abeyance pending review of their financial structure and Kawartha Downs did not apply as the track was in the process of being sold.

This Board held 6 days of appeals dealing with fines of less than $300.00 and/or suspensions of less than 30 days. Thirty-two licensees appeared before the Board to have their appeals heard.

A sub-section of the appeal board is the Drivers Review Members, made up of:

Wesley Coke
Carman Hie
William Wellwood

Based upon the recommendation of the judges or upon complaints received from the industry, these members will review a participant's licence and then make their findings known to the Ontario Racing Commission for further action if deemed advisable.

Memberships

National Association of State Racing Commissioners

This Commission continues to hold active membership in the National Association of State Racing Commissioners, an organization comprised of Commission representatives from all jurisdictions in North America where racing is legalized. The organization acts as a clearing house for changes in racing rules and statistical information. By means of bulletins, issued by the National Association, each Commission member is apprised of all actions, rule changes and disciplinary measures taken by other commissions. This information is of vital importance in maintaining complete and accurate records of all persons connected with racing. Mr. W. R. McDonald, Director of the Ontario Racing Commission is a member at-large of the Executive Committee of this association.

Racetracks Security Canada

Acting to facilitate the transfer of information between organizations on security matters and the investigation process, this organization is made up of racetrack security personnel as well as Agriculture Canada and Commission representatives.

Special Programs

Racetracks Assistance Program

The Racetracks Assistance Program is a controlled investment program by the Government of Ontario in racing and reflects the importance of this indigenous resource industry to the Province. Implemented in 1986, more than $25 million will be invested in the racing industry over three years.

The Ontario Racing Commission administers the Racetracks Assistance Program subject to the authority of the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations.

The overall mandate of the program is to increase attendance at Ontario's 21 racetracks by promoting the public's awareness of horse racing as an attractive, modern entertainment and sport medium and by modernizing racing facilities to reflect the public's changing life styles and comfort expectations.

1987 was a very successful year for the program with all of the racetracks in Ontario participating. Approximately $3 million was paid out to these tracks for patron-oriented capital improvement projects. In addition, the Program approved another $15 million in capital improvement projects that are scheduled for completion in 1988 and 1989.

These projects have made a dramatic contribution in attracting more patrons and increasing pari-mutuel wagering at these tracks.

For example:

- The widening of the track at Quinte Raceway to permit triactor wagering increased its 1987 betting handle by 28% over 1986.
- The installation of new lights on the track at Woodstock Raceway, which was a major undertaking by this track, increased their attendance by 5.5% and their handle by 10.3% over 1986.
- The installation of a new cash-sell computerized pari-mutuel system at Sudbury Raceway increased their average attendance by 27.5% and average wagering by 14.4% over 1986, and this was achieved over a shorter racing season.
- The Ontario Jockey Club's projects range from the addition of escalators at all its racetracks, to refurbishing of the Turf Club at Fort Erie, to new flooring, upgraded concession and mutuel areas at Mohawk, Greenwood and Woodbine, to the multi-million dollar expansion and renovation of its Greenwood dining room facilities. It is anticipated that by the completion of the Racetracks Assistance Program in 1989, Greenwood and Woodbine's grandstand facilities will be second to none in North America.

A second component of the Racetracks Assistance Program is funding provided to the Federation of Ontario Racetracks Marketing Inc. (F.O.R.M.) to develop and conduct an advertising and promotion campaign to increase the public's awareness of horse racing in the Province. In 1987 approximately $1 million was contributed by the program to purchase air time for a series of television commercials which used familiar Second City actors to introduce horse racing to the general public.

In early 1988, Mr. R.E. (Bob) Aldous, Deputy Director of Standardbred Racing, left the Ontario Racing Commission to take the position of Director of Inspections at the Liquor Licence Control Board.

The Commission would like to extend its appreciation to him for sixteen years of dedicated service.

Race Tracks Tax Sharing Arrangement

What is the Race Tracks Tax Sharing Arrangement?
The Ontario Government collects a tax from wagering at all racetracks in the province. This tax is a percentage of the amount wagered and is, at present, set at seven percent with an additional two percent tax on triactor features. In 1968, the Ontario Government raised its pari-mutuel tax by one percent. At that time, it was stated that the extra one percent would be allocated to furthering the goals and requirements of Ontario's racing industry. This evolved in 1974 to the present tax sharing arrangement between the industry and the province. In 1981 a further one percent of the existing tax was rebated to the industry raising the level of the rebate to two percent and in the case of triactor features to four percent.

How was the agreement reached?
All areas of the horse racing and breeding industry in Ontario were consulted. The following associations provided input towards how the proposal would best serve the industry:
Ontario Standardbred Improvement Association Inc.
Ontario Harness Horsemen's Association
Canadian Standardbred Horse Society
Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association
Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society
National Association of Canadian Racetracks (Ontario Division)
Harness Tracks of Ontario

Agreement between the province and the industry was reached and the program came into effect in 1974.

What is the purpose of the arrangement?
The tax sharing arrangement serves four purposes:
1. to supplement purses paid to owners,
2. to improve the quality and quantity of racing stock in Ontario,
3. to improve the quality of the facilities at the Class III circuit standardbred tracks in the province, and
4. to fund equine research program.

What was the dollar value of the program in 1987?
In 1986, the total amount wagered at race tracks in Ontario was $889,911,187. Based on this figure, the value of the tax sharing arrangement in 1987 was $21,625,585 allocated at follows:

Standardbred Racing:	$13,048,446
Thoroughbred Racing:	$ 8,574,346
Quarter Horse Racing:	$ 2,793
TOTAL	$21,625,585

The amount returned to each segment of the industry is prorated according to the total dollars wagered. These funds are then apportioned to research, breeders' incentive programs and supplemental purse grants.

Highlights of the Tax Sharing Arrangement

Equine Research
The Guelph Centre for Equine Research under the University of Guelph received 1.5 percent of the rebate which amounted to $266,932 in 1987. From this total, $100,000 was allocated to research projects and the remaining $166,932 was allocated to the building fund set aside for the centre's new facilities.

Overnight Purse Supplements
This arrangement addresses the problems of purse levels in general through overnight purse supplements. By supplementing purses paid to owners, the racing industry and the provincial government are encouraging the purchase of better racing stock and helping to offset the increasing operating costs which owners are experiencing.

In 1987, the Thoroughbred Industry received $5,925,281 in overnight purse supplements and the Standardbred Industry received $7,550,792.

Racing and Breeding Incentives
Through the racing and breeding incentives, rebate money is actively directed towards programs which will benefit the industry. The Standardbred Program totalled $7,930,441 in 1987 including the Ontario Sires Stakes, Breeders' Awards, the Trillium Series and a Publicity and Promotion Budget. The Thoroughbred Program totalled $4,429,400 including the Ontario Sires Stakes, Breeders' Awards and major stakes support.

The Ontario Sires Stakes Program
Established in 1974, the Ontario Standardbred Sires Stakes has proved to be one of the most successful government programs. It has reduced the outflow of Ontario capital to the United States for the purchase of yearlings, improved Ontario stock through economic incentives to breeders and increased employment in the racing industry.

In the Standardbred Program the Ontario Sires Stakes are a series of races with supplemented purses for two and three year old trotters and pacers at tracks across Ontario. It is a self-help program in which breeders, horsemen and tracks contribute to the purse through nomination and sustaining payments as well as starting fees and track fees.

In 1987 there were 104 races for a total purse value of $6,710,314. As well, a total of $460,520 was distributed in Breeders' Awards to the breeders of the top five horses in any Ontario Sires Stakes race.

To be eligible to these races, foals must have been sired by a stallion standing in Ontario and registered with the program. These stallions must either be owned or leased by an Ontario resident. As a result, the number and quality of sires standing in Ontario has improved considerably which has led to the development of breeding establishments which are now competitive on a world class level.

Because of the success of the standardbred venture, a similar program was launched in 1975 for thoroughbreds. In 1987 there were 10 Ontario Sires Stakes Thoroughbred races for a total purse value of $809,250.

Trillium Series
In an effort to promote the development of the Standardbred broodmare band in Ontario 10 races for two-year-old fillies were established eight years ago. Five races each for trotters and pacers went for a total purse of $759,607.

Thoroughbred Racing Incentives
Further assistance is allocated to the thoroughbred industry through an incentive program for breeders which includes purse support to existing stakes to improve the sales appeal of Canadian-bred horses. In 1987, the purse value of government supported stakes were $4,299,400 which included the Ontario Sires Stakes races.

Conclusion

The Race Tracks Tax Sharing Arrangement is an excellent example of business and government working together to provide very tangible benefits to the residents of Ontario. Since its inception in 1974, this program has played a direct role in increasing employment in the racing industry, in helping small Ontario farms remain economically stable and, of course, in enhancing the enjoyment for the more than 6 million residents who attend races annually.

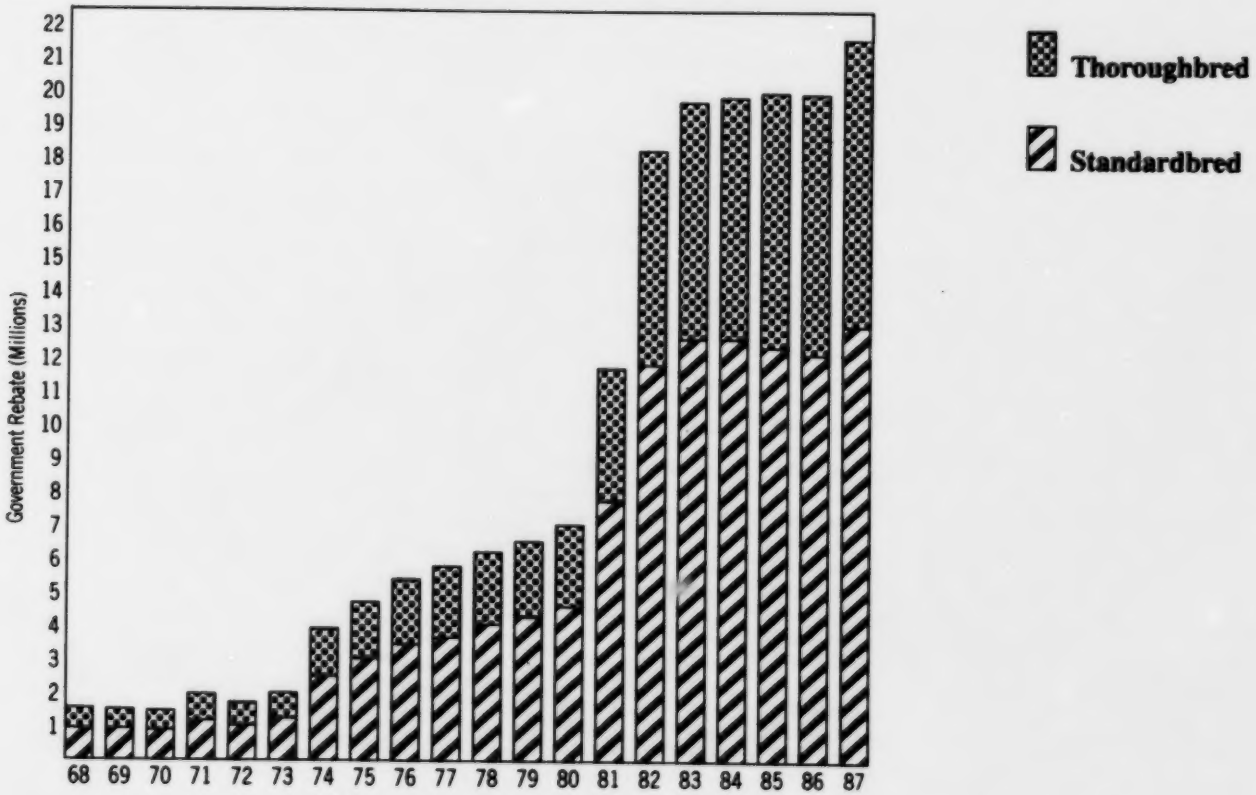
Race Tracks Tax Sharing Agreement



As part of the Race Tracks Tax Sharing Arrangement, the Ontario Racing Commission allocated 1.5% of the rebate towards Equine Research.

1.5% of the Thoroughbred Program	= $109,659
1.5% of the Standardbred Program	= $157,273
	$266,932

These funds were distributed to the Guelph Centre for Equine Research as follows:

Building Fund	$166,932
Equine Research	$100,000

Other Funding Sources

Funding and support of research at the Equine Research Committee (ERC) comes from a number of other organizations such as the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, The E. P. Taylor Equine Research Fund, granting agencies and the University of Guelph.

Research Priorities

Following broad consultation with the horse industry, the ERC Advisory Council established the following research priorities:

1. Respiratory problems which adversely affect exercise, racing and performance.
2. Reproduction problems with specific emphasis on prevention of early embryonic mortality and the improvement of biological agents for the prevention of abortion.
3. Lameness problems with emphasis on the growth and developmental disorders of the musculo-skeletal system.
4. In the area of nutrition, studies will be interrelated to Point #3. During the planning stages before direction can be decided, the Centre plans to research the amount of extension work being planned and carried out by other institutions, such as the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, to determine what information and services are available in the areas of feed analysis and equine nutrition.
5. A certain portion of the funding has been designated to support preliminary research on major new and emerging problems affecting the equine industry.

Research Projects

Respiratory Research Program
A study of acute outbreaks of respiratory disease in horses in Ontario

Principal investigators: Drs. L. Huber and R.A. Willoughby

Acute, contagious respiratory diseases occur frequently in horses and are the major causes of loss, reduced performance and disorders which impair the function of the respiratory system over extended periods of time. It is a widely held view of practising veterinarians and horsemen that despite the judicious application of recommended vaccination procedures, there has been no apparent reduction in the incidence of acute respiratory diseases in horses in Ontario during the past 20 years. In recent months, there have been reports of paralysis and death in race horses, concerns about the occurrence of equine viral arteritis (EVA), evidence to indicate that Ontario horses have been exposed to certain erhlichia (Potomac fever agent) and an alarmingly high number of horses which fail to fully recover following acute respiratory infection.

This project was developed and designed to employ culture techniques, serological responses, clinical methods and epidemiologic analysis under field conditions. These techniques will allow the investigators to study a large number of acute outbreaks to determine which bacteria, viruses, mycoplasma and other agents are causing the problem.

Initially, three hundred practising veterinarians and horse owners were contacted by letter requesting their cooperation in reporting incidents of contagious respiratory disease in horses. A swab technique was developed which in addition to being comfortable for the horse, allows the collection of uncontaminated mucus from the throat region of horses under field conditions. The results show that this technique, which includes freezing the samples in a portable liquid nitrogen tank at the stall, is markedly superior to previously used methods.

As of March 1988, a total of 30 visits to stables, farms and racetracks have been completed during which a total of 447 examinations of horses and sample collections were conducted. The studies at thoroughbred stables and shedrows are currently in progress because the horses have only recently returned to racing.

Since the study involves culturing swabs to look for more than twenty different viruses, mycoplasma and bacteria together with the serological (immune) responses of the horse to the agents, there are only preliminary results to report as of this date.

Several outbreaks appeared to be related to infection with rhinovirus indicating that the dismissal of this virus as being important in respiratory infections of the horse reported in the literature may be incorrect. Early results suggest that mycoplasma agents together with other infections were associated with a recurring problem of mild respiratory infections at a training farm.

Technical difficulties at the Cornell Laboratory where the serum tests are being performed have delayed conducting the tests related to the influenza (or flu) virus.

Dusty conditions and less than desirable ventilation systems were commonly associated with the outbreaks of respiratory disease and the recovery period. Although it is too early to compare the swab and serum test results with practices and beliefs held by horsemen and veterinarians, it will be interesting to see if the apathy towards the use of vaccines is justified.

Investigation of exercise-induced pulmonary haemorrhage (bleeders, epistaxis) in performing horses.

Principal investigators: Drs. L. Viel, T. Whiting, W. McDonell

This study involves detailed and repeated examination of the respiratory tract of horses which showed evidence of bleeding at the nostrils following training or simulated races. The study involved the participation of several standardbred trainers, practicing veterinarians, researchers at the OVC and a pharmaceutical firm. The ERC support was limited to providing some technical assistance.

The various procedures were well accepted when applied to the standardbred racehorse and some were even sampled close to race time without influencing performance. For various reasons, arrangements could not be made to study thoroughbred racehorses.

Early results indicate that many horses have inflammatory cells deep within their airways indicating that environmental factors such as infectious agents (viruses, bacteria, etc.) and dusty conditions are having an effect on the respiratory system of the majority of racehorses. Data from the tests and the results following the use of medications will not be finalized and analyzed before the end of 1988.

Lameness Research Program
A study to develop objective methods for evaluating lameness

Principal investigators: Drs. J. Field and D. Horney

The first requirement in research directed towards finding solutions to the various types of lameness is to develop objective measurements so that the effectiveness and efficiency of various preventive and treatment methods, including feeding and training, can be objectively evaluated.

This study is aimed at developing these objective measurements. Through the use of pressure measuring devices attached to the shoes of the horse, recording can be made of the relative weight bearing down on each foot as the animal is being exercised.

The study will be done in collaboration with the researchers at the Veterinary College at Washington State University who were responsible for the original work to devise this system. The equipment used for this study was purchased with ERC equipment funds and the research is being performed by OVC researchers with assistance from ERC staff.

This study will be completed in 1988.

Research Planned for 1988

1. Respiratory Priority Research Program
   The present studies will be completed in the early summer of 1988. Thereafter, the findings which show the greatest potential for being effective in the control and prevention of respiratory problems in horses will be investigated further.
2. Reproductive Priority Research Program
   In 1988 the ERC plans to hire a researcher who will be working with the breeding industry to develop research programs and strategies related to the loss of the fetus in the early part of pregnancy in mares.
3. Lameness Priority Research Program
   From some of the preliminary assessments of bone and tendon related developmental problems in young horses currently being conducted, further research will be initiated in 1988. The methods described above will continue to be used, along with other systems available at the ERC including radioisotope imaging procedures and high speed film-gait analysis.

Equine Research Centre

Construction of the $2.5 million Equine Research Centre (ERC) buildings began in the spring of 1987. Occupation of the 20,000 square foot facility is expected in early 1988.

The Equine Research Centre will include:

- a meeting room, to be made available to equine groups,
- an information centre, responsible for distributing research results to the industry,
- research offices and bench-type laboratories
- a laboratory where non-invasive nuclear medicine imaging can be performed in lameness and respiratory research,
- a high-speed treadmill room where performance-related problems can be studied,
- sixteen-stall barn area specially constructed with a special ventilation system providing total isolation of each animal, and
- a manure storage building designed to facilitate research on composting and other disposal systems.

The 1987 Thoroughbred Improvement Program rebated 2% of the total amount wagered at Ontario Thoroughbred racetracks in 1986 to the industry in the form of racing and breeding incentives and overnight purse supplements. The Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society in conjunction with the Ontario Racing Commission determines the emphasis that the racing and breeding incentive program will take. Similarly, the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association in conjunction with the Ontario Racing Commission determine how the overnight purse supplements are to be distributed among the races.

The Thoroughbred Improvement Program was designed to showcase and improve Canadian-breds, enhance thoroughbred racing in Ontario, encourage breeding to stallions standing in the province and to foster investment at Woodbine Sales and in Canadian-breds in general.

Support of the regular program of racing through overnight purse supplements assists with the rising costs of horse ownership and offers encouragement for Canadian-breds which are not stakes calibre.

By giving strong emphasis to the Canadian-breds, the racing and breeding incentive program helps to enhance the money earning lines in pedigrees thus increasing the value of Canadian-breds and their progeny in Canada and abroad. In 1987 the minimum purse for a stakes race for Canadian-breds was $75,000 added and in 1988 this figure will be $80,000.

Of the stakes races supported by the program, 47% of the races are restricted to Canadian-breds. Even in open competition these horses do extremely well; in the general stakes program there were 63 unrestricted races of which Canadian-breds won 75%.

A vital component of the program is the Ontario Sires Stakes which are a number of races restricted to progeny sired by a stallion standing in Ontario which is owned or leased by an Ontario resident. There are 10 Ontario Sires Stakes Races which were contested for $75,000 added purse in 1987.

The Thoroughbred Improvement Program encourages all areas of the industry. By supporting filly and mare races, the program encourages owners to purchase better quality fillies to race in Ontario. Pedigree lines are improved here in the province through these races and the resulting foals have pedigrees which are acceptable anywhere in the world market. The strength of the program has led to strong sales figures which in turn now justify higher stud fees, encouraging owners to import better stallions. In recent years the success of such new imports as Bold Ruckus, Country Light and Commemorate have done much to inspire renewed confidence within the industry. Also the success of the program has been an inducement for very expensive stallions such as Vice Regent to maintain their place in Ontario. The performance by Regal Classic in the 1987 Breeder's Cup has proven once again to the international community the tremendous strides which have been made in the Canadian-bred Thoroughbred.

The success of this incentive program is envied throughout North America because it has uniquely stimulated every segment of the Thoroughbred industry.

Ontario Sires Stakes

The Ontario Sires Stakes are a series of ten races restricted to progeny of stallions standing in the Province of Ontario and registered with the program at the Ontario Racing Commission. The stallion must also be owned or leased by an Ontario resident. A popular bonus of this program is that although you must breed to an Ontario stallion, the foal does not have to be Canadian-bred to run in these races. This benefits the stallion owner by attracting out-of-province mares and the breeder, because regardless of where the foal is dropped, it is eligible to these races.

As a major indicator of the health of the industry, statistics on sales ring activity can be used to gauge business trends and the effect of the improvement program funds. The increase in value of the Thoroughbred stakes program as a result of the government rebate program has had the effect of improving the pedigrees of Canadian-bred and Ontario-sired horses which in turn improves their marketability and performance in the sales.

Woodbine Sales

Woodbine Sales, the province's major Thoroughbred sales company, benefits from the improvement program through two stakes restricted to sales graduates. This promotes the sale and increases the earning potential of horses that pass through the sales ring.

Export Figures

In 1987 the number of horses purchased by out-of-province buyers from the Autumn Mixed Sale and September Yearling Sale in Toronto was 88 for a total value of $3,437,300.

The sustained support of foreign buyers indicates the attractiveness of the 'made in Canada' product.

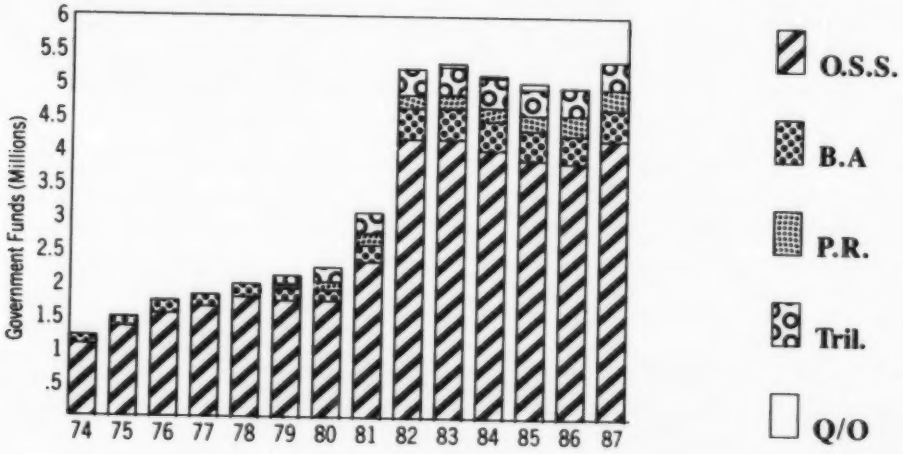
Racing and Breeding Incentives



Trillium Series

The Trillium Series is a program of five pacing races and five trotting races for two year-old filllies. In 1987 the Series was contested for a total of $759,607 in purses (see page 54 for details).

Restricted to fillies which are at least 75% owned by Ontario residents, the program was designed to encourage the purchase of well-bred fillies which would eventually enter the broodmare ranks in the province.

Ontario Sires Stakes

The Ontario Sires Stakes program was established in 1974 and consists of a series of 13 races for each of the eight divisions, totalling 104 races which take place during the course of the summer season. Eligibility for the Ontario Sires Stakes is restricted to progeny of stallions standing in the province and registered with the Ontario Racing Commission. Yearlings must then be nominated by May 15th of their yearling year and sustained to race either as two-year-olds or three-year-olds. Nominating and sustaining fees are collected and then distributed together with the Improvement Program Funds in the form of purses.

Publicity and Promotion Budget

In 1987 a Promotion and Public Relations Budget of $315,000 was allocated to the Standardbred Industry to promote the Ontario Sires Stakes program. A committee made up of representatives from the Ontario Racing Commission, the Canadian Standardbred Horse Society, the Ontario Standardbred Improvement Association and the Ontario Harness Horsemen's Association oversees the distribution of these funds.

Four Corner Promotions was contracted by the Committee to provide media coverage for the 1987 Ontario Sires Stakes season.

In 1987 the Publicity and Promotion Committee decided to "take action" and become more aggressive in their promotional efforts. It is their intention to create an atmosphere of excitement and to make every Sires Stakes race an event.

In a unique gesture of appreciation for the contribution made by grooms in the industry, the groom of every winning Ontario Sires Stakes horse was presented with a jacket which boldly proclaimed the program in corporate colours.

In support of Ontario Racing Commission efforts, the committee agreed to fund The Lampman Cup. The award was named in honour of the late James Lampman of the Ontario Jockey Club whose lifetime was devoted to the growth and development of harness racing. The cup is presented to the leading driver based on points earned in Ontario Sires Stakes races. In 1987 the Lampman Cup was won by Terry Kerr.

The committee also supported another Ontario Racing Commission initiative by funding a series of Ontario Sires Stakes commercials which were produced by Bradford J A J Productions and aired on its TSN show, "World of Horse Racing". A colourful, exciting series of 30 second commercials were produced by Brad Diamond, highlighting many of the industry sectors supported by the Ontario Sires Stakes including tracks, drivers and sales.

Once again this year the Committee's display booth provided a focal point for Standardbred Racing and the Ontario Sires Stakes at the Toronto Sportsman's Show, the Royal Winter Fair, shopping malls, racetracks and the fair circuit. This display renders the industry an invaluable service by giving the general public an opportunity to ask questions and gain insight.
